Foreword

THIS is the story of Douglas Freeman . . . its students and activities, its triumphs and defeats. Here, through word and picture, we have recorded the most memorable events of the school year . . . those which you will want to remember in the years to come. We hope, particularly, that the seniors, our first graduating class, will find this book full of pleasant memories, for they have worked closely with the members of our community, and know the remarkable spirit that reigns at Douglas Freeman High School.

Dedication

DOUGLAS FREEMAN . . . born only two years, yet much more advanced than years indicate, for within this time the school has traveled far along the road of success to become a leader . . . in sports, in literary recognition, and in scholastic achievement. Through many hours of enthusiastic work, and with loving care and devotion, the community has done its utmost to help Douglas Freeman get ahead. It is to this, the wonderful spirit and loyalty of our community, that we dedicate the 1956 HISTORIAN.

But not only to the community . . . this yearbook is dedicated to everyone, the students, the teachers and the administration, who helped to make this school what it is today. It is dedicated to that feeling which lives within all who are connected with this school . . . that feeling which has become such a part of them that they will always cherish it.

Long after those now associated with the school have left, the memory of the spirit of Douglas Freeman High School will live within them. When they see a book or a magnolia tree, whenever they hear a band playing or the cheers of a football game, they will think of Douglas Freeman. Gone too soon are these wonderful moments . . . but never to be forgotten. Wherever they go, a part of this school is with them. How proud we are of the spirit of Douglas Freeman!

Administra

THE faculty at Douglas Freeman has cooperated wholeheartedly with the community. Working together through such organizations as the Parent-Teacher Association, they have played a major role in the advancement of our school.

The spirit of Douglas Freeman is a thing of beauty, a feeling we find reflected in the work of teachers, parents, students, and community groups to make this school not merely a building, but a place of warmth.

Magnolia trees from Dr. Freeman's estate, trees and shrubs donated by the garden clubs—these are tangible evidences of the desire always to enhance the charm of the school.

Administration and Faculty

As Douglas Freeman's first principal, Mr. W. Howard Mears has been instrumental in the organization of all school functions. His wise advice and generous help are but two of the things for which DSF students are particularly grateful.

Mr. I. Herbert Levenson, Assistant Principal, plays a key role in the successful operation of Douglas Freeman. His many duties include supervision of seventh and eighth grade students in the guidance programs, and distribution of the school text books.

The guidance department is under the direction of Miss Faye Hill, Dean of Students. At the beginning of each school session, Miss Hill is busy helping many students to prepare their schedules and offers any assistance which is necessary at any time during the rest of the year. She also obtains bulletins for seniors wishing to attend college and assists them in selecting a suitable vocation. Many problems would be unsolved without the help of the guidance director.

THE intangible yet vital spirit that pervades Douglas Freeman is created largely by the student body, by the wholesome attitudes and enthusiastic interests felt by each of the individuals who are the school. The students seek knowledge, but even more, an adventure in learning. They find it here in the classroom, but particularly in the library, and in the books created by our namesake and presented to us by Mrs. Douglas S. Freeman.

By their interest and active participation in many club and assembly programs, and in numerous other ways, members of the community have helped make our organizations a success. The Bible, the flags, and the grand piano in the auditorium, which were given to the school by various community groups, play an important part in the functioning of the organizations pictured in this section.

Student Democracy . . .

S. C. A. stages a major clean-up campaign.

The Student Cooperative Association, the governing body of Douglas Freeman High School, includes all students as members. Important matters concerning the students' welfare are decided through the student council, which is composed of its officers, a representative of each homeroom, the five class presidents, and SCA standing committee chairmen.

Ray Wallace is president; Melvin Fratkin, vice-president; Barbara Rossiter, secretary; and Philip Ingersoll, treasurer. Faculty advisers are Miss Ada Land and Miss Marian Breeden.

The SCA publishes the school handbook, the Rebel Yell, which is designed to help new students learn the opportunities DSF offers them through the SCA.

This organization also awards merit letters, on the basis of a point system, to students who deserve recognition for participating in school activities.

The purpose of the SCA is to help students get the most out of high school life, by promoting their interests in school activities and developing qualities of responsibility and leadership in them.

. . . In Action

In order to help the S.C.A. run more smoothly, various standing committees were formed. These committees were headed by committee chairmen who were granted a vote in the S.C.A.

The Safety Committee, headed by Lowell Rosman, appointed monitors for the halls and buses.

The Storeroom Committee, with Allan Goldfarb as chairman, took the responsibility of selling school supplies to the pupils before school and during activity period. This committee produced most of the money for the S. C. A.

The Ways and Means Committee, headed by Murray Janus, devised different ways for the S. C. A. to make money. The ideas were then sent to the S. C. A. and voted on.

Planning programs for the high school assemblies was the responsibility of the Program Committee, headed by Neil Ward. Much work went into the planning of these programs to make them interesting and informative, as well as entertaining, to the student body.

Under the supervision of Susette Sides and Peggy Dickinson, the Art Service Committee planned displays emphasizing school activities and kept the bulletin boards in the halls well decorated and up-to-date.

All lost articles were turned in to the Lost and Found Committee, directed by Vernon Whitaker. The group had the use of a second-floor room which was open at specified times during the day.

The Gym Assistants are a group of Sophomore, Junior and Senior girls, working during their study halls as helpers to Miss Nancy Alexander and Mrs. Betty McAllister, the physical education teachers.

The duties performed by each were calling the roll, taking care of the equipment, keeping order in the class when no teacher is present, running errands, and refereeing class games.

GYM ASSISTANTS. Wanda Ragsdale, Marguerite Wyatt, Bettie Anne Mayo, Lyn Larson, Mary Lou Ayers, Betty Lee Franklin.

Helping Hands

Office assistants help the secretaries by answering the telephone, running errands, and delivering messages. They also perform various other tasks assigned them, and by doing so obtain valuable experience in office work.

On My Honor

National Honor Society "taps" new members.

The members of the National Honor Society are chosen because they excel in character, scholarship, leadership and service.

This year fifteen seniors and juniors were taken into the Honor Society during an impressive tapping service. The fifteen charter members, clothed in black gowns, tapped the new members.

An honor code, drawn up jointly with the SCA, has been the main project of the National Honor Society.

The Honor Society and the SCA also worked together on the organization of a school-wide clean-up week.

The officers are: Diana Hoey, president; Nicky DesChamps, vice-president; Georga Smith, secretary; and Anne Morris, treasurer. Sponsors are Miss Ada Land and Miss Marian Breeden.

"The Pen is Mightier . . ."

The charter members of the Quill and Scroll, a national journalistic honor society, were chosen because of their outstanding accomplishments in the literary, editorial, business and art departments of the school publications.

The purposes of the society are to instill in students the ideal of scholarship, to advance the standards of the profession of journalism, and to promote the exact thinking that is needed in clear, forceful writing.

Among projects and activities were the framing of the chapter's charter, taking part in Stunt Night, and making school announcements over the public address system throughout the year.

Mrs. Mary Passage sponsored the organization with Patsy Russell, president; Barbara Rossiter, vice-president; and Murray Janus, secretary-treasurer. These officers, along with the other members, were installed during a school assembly.

When's the Deadline?

The purpose of the literary staff of the Historian is to prepare a permanent record of the happenings of the school year.

The work on the yearbook begins in the summer with the actual planning of the annual and does not end until the final deadline is met in March. During this time the editors

eil Ward,
Editor-in-Chief.

Dale Boatwright, Feature Editor; Georga Smith, Organizations Editor.

Jack Sciutti, Catherine DeVilbiss, Sports Editors.

Philip Ingersoll, Photographer,

and the assistants plan the pages and have the photographers take pictures of students and school activities.

A member of the literary staff must devote his time freely and unfailingly on his section.

Each year the goal of the staff is to make a better yearbook, one that the school can look upon with pride.

Another New Ad?

Mary Carolyn Blount, Business Manager.

The Business Staff of the Historian did not wait for the opening of school to start working. Their work began during the summer vacation to raise the money needed for the printing of the yearbook.

Each person wanting to become a member of the staff had to obtain three ads by October 1. Ads were secured mostly from local businesses.

A drive for subscriptions to the Historian was held from October 13 to 28. Posters and a jingle, announced over the P.A. system, helped to boost the drive.

Serving as heads of the staff this year were Mary Carolyn Blount, business manager; Mimi Leach, advertising manager; Dick Moseley, circulation manager; and Philip Ingersoll, subscription manager. The sponsor was Miss Dorothea Moore.

Lots o' luck, Linda

Wisdom and Wit

Doralee Forsythe, Editor; Jane Meredith, Business Manager; Mrs. Mary Passage, Sponsor.

As an outgrowth of the Literary Club, which originated the idea of a school magazine, came a distinct and separate staff sponsored by Mrs. Mary Passage. Because the group felt that nothing less than the best would do, the magazine was professionally printed, and in the spring of 1955 the staff published Volume I, Number 1 of the Educator, a 32-page magazine containing original creative writing and art work. The Winter 1955 issue was increased to 40 pages, because of the great quantity of material submitted by students.

Doralee Forsythe edited the 1955 issues, and Lillis Hamilton has assumed leadership in the publication of the Spring and Winter 1956 editions. The new staff includes Gayle Gowdy, replacing Jane Meredith as business manager, Beverly Stone, relieving Lyn Larson as advertising manager, and Mary Catherine Neagle, Kay Slaughter, Betsy Ottley, and Judy Houchins as new associate editors.

Deadlines and Dummies

Bill Clark, Editor-in-Chief.

This year the staff of the Commentator worked harder than ever to give students one of the best scholastic newspapers in the South. Under new publication schedules, ten issues appeared, one every three weeks. Comprehensive coverage of all school activities was the primary aim. Better equipment was acquired for the staff room and more efficient procedure put into action by the editors. The junior journalism class contributed regularly to the paper and the Cub Club was by no means idle. Much time was saved through the fine work of the typists.

Special elementary representatives kept the staff up to date on news in the seventh grades. Seventh grade reporters not pictured are Charlotte Grinnan, Betty Beale, Donna Robins, Carol Iffland, Diane Peterson, Sarah Carter, Lora Gill, Diane Miller Carole Foxworth, Linda Leard, Jane Passage, Nancy Morris, Jeff Wilkins, Dickie Rossiter, and Jean Williams.

The business departments of the Commentator were headed by Anne Morris, business manager; Johnny Thompson, advertising manager; and Allan Goldfarb, circulation manager. Miss Margaretta Stephens is business advisor.

Les Enfants Français

It is the objective of the French Club to learn more about the French language, the country of France, its peoples and customs.

A monthly meeting during activity period serves as a planning and business session preceding the programs held after school every fourth Wednesday. Both meetings are conducted in French as much as possible.

This year's projects included celebrating French holidays with the French customs, having interesting speakers, giving plays in French, and seeing movies.

The following officers have served this year: Johnny OBrion, president; Linda Bowen, vice-president; Sherrie Elliott, secretary; and Philip Ingersoll, treasurer. The sponsor is Miss Helen Tanner.

Los Bribones

The purpose of the Spanish Club, under the direction of Mrs. Ruby Carson, is to further the students' interest in the Spanish peoples, their customs, language, and cultures.

At Christmas the club celebrated with a fiesta in which were featured Spanish Christmas customs such as las Posadas, a pinata and Spanish Christmas carols.

The club selected as its name Los Bribones, the Rascals.

The officers elected this year were Georga Smith, president; Betty Ball, vice-president; Smitty Smith, secretary; Nancy Scott, treasurer; Phil Dalton, sergeant-at-arms. The sponsor is Mrs. Ruby Carson.

The Officers are installed by the Varina Chapter of the FBLA.

The FBLA was introduced to the student body by way of an assembly program held in the fall. At this time the new officers and members were installed by officers of the Varina FBLA.

With the theme "Cooperation In Business," the Douglas Freeman chapter of the FBLA this year took part in many varied projects and activities. One of the goals for the year was to raise money to send delegates to the FBLA conventions. Money was raised in several ways, one of which was making and selling paper megaphones at football games.

The club sponsored school and community service activities. Also, they tried to further their business knowledge by having businessmen as guest speakers.

Officers of the club were Judy Wilburn, president; Cliff Ford, vice-president; Judy Oliva, secretary; and Mary Lou Ayers, treasurer. Beverly Belz served as the club reporter, Marguerite Wyatt as the parliamentarian, and Mary Carolyn Blount was the historian. Miss Dorothea Moore acted as sponsor.

Students today— Homemakers tomorrow

The Future Homemakers of America is a national youth organization composed of students who are taking or have taken a homemaking course in junior or senior high school. The members of the Douglas Freeman Chapter have chosen as their motto, "Toward New Horizons." The colors are red and white and the flower is the red rose.

To celebrate National FHA Week, a tea was held to honor the faculty, and a bake sale was held for our classmates. A representative was sent to the Federation and State Conventions. As a Christmas project, the FHA took a trip to the Crippled Children's Hospital.

The officers of this year's club were Gretchen Woerner, president; Nancy Crowder, vice-president; Patsy Trice, secretary; Beverly Smith, treasurer; Jo Bayne, reporter; Judy Brown and Pat Bobbitt, songleaders; Ann Behle, historian; Lidie Lou Spencer, parliamentarian.

To Make The Best Better

The 4-H is an organization of young people in rural areas who are interested in bettering agriculture, homemaking and community relations.

During the past year, the Douglas Freeman clubs accomplished much. In addition to the many district and county contest winners, Lillis Hamilton and Gretchen Woerner were state winners.

Officers were Lillis Hamilton, president; Gretchen Woerner, vice-president; Nina Lawson, secretary - treasurer; and Linda Griffin and Sylvia Perkins, songleaders.

To Help In Time Of Need

The members of the Junior Red Cross represent each of the homerooms throughout the school. The officers, Gretchen Woerner, president; Fran Webb, vice-president; Audrey Smith, secretary; Betty Traylor, treasurer; and Sherrie Elliott, reporter, were selected from this group.

This year the projects of the Junior Red Cross include the enrollment drive, working at McGuire Hospital on Saturdays, and sponsoring a safety campaign and safety week.

The Junior Red Cross at Douglas Freeman is part of the Henrico County Chapter, which includes Varina, Highland Springs, Hermitage, and Virginia Randolph High School.

Lillis Hamilton represents Douglas Freeman on the County Junior Red Cross Committee and she was recently elected President of this Committee.

The Douglas Freeman Hi-Y is a Christian service club affiliated with the YMCA. Throughout the year it strived to fulfill its purpose, "To create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character."

During Christmas and Thanksgiving the group sponsored drives to collect food and clothes for the needy. Another project they undertook was that of helping to keep the school neat and orderly, particularly in the cafeteria.

During an assembly program in February, a portrait of our principal, Mr. W. H. Mears, was presented to the school by the Hi-Y. This portrait was painted by Mr. Randolph Cheatham, co-advisor of the Douglas Freeman Hi-Y.

Meetings, which are held every Monday night, consist of a business session and program. The club elected Ray Wallace, president; Bill Clark, vice-president; Nicky DesChamps, secretary; Jack Savage, treasurer; and Tommy Anderson, chaplain. Jeffrey Poling is program chairman and Ronnie Crawford, sergeant-at-arms. Advisers are Mr. Ray Long and Mr. Randy Cheatham.

Building Christian Character

This year the Y-teens, a Christian organization connected with the YWCA, initiated a new system of organization. The entire triangle was divided into three groups, each having its own chairman and secretary. The entire group still worked together to plan any big projects, but usually the groups worked independently.

Group chairman were Nancy Gardner, Jackie Gibson, and Neil Ward. Group secretaries were Janet Neill, Susette Sides, and Gretchen Woerner. The sponsors are Miss Marian Breeden, Miss Jane Gill, Miss Carol Jones, and Miss Dorothea Moore.

Besides sponsoring several parties, the Y-teens took part in a Christmas service project.

The Library Club is composed of students who give one period a day to help in the library. There are usually several students working each period. One student is assigned to the desk to check out books, receive books, answer questions, and perform the routine duties of the desk. Another student keeps the permit desk, checking the time the students arrive and keeping a record of the persons who come to the library. The other assistants check and shelve books, help to process new books, and perform many other duties. These students alternate their work every week so that they may become familiar with all phases of library work.

The Library Club meets the third Wednesday of each month during Activity Period at which time the club officers carry on a program that will help them to better understand and appreciate the library. The officers are Elaine Drake, president; Judy Houchins, vice-president; Judy Wallace, secretary; Joann Kleinecke, treasurer.

Tickets . . .

The Athletic Council was formed to promote inter-scholastic athletics and good sportsmanship.

This year the Athletic Council has taken charge of selling tickets at the games and selling season tickets. They also assist in any way possible in the preparations for athletic events held at the school.

The officers of this group are Jack Savage, president; Bill Kemp, vice-president; and Betty Lee Franklin, secretary-treasurer.

The newly formed Science Club has made a start toward its objective of increasing the interest of the student body in science. The first meeting were occupied with the election of the club's officers and the drafting of a constitution. The officers were elected as follows: Philip Ingersoll, president; Meri Boyd, vice-president; and Judy Houchins, secretary-treasurer. The sponsors are Mr. D. E. Baggett and Mrs. Susanna Schmitt.

During the year the Science Club was entertained by several speakers, and it visited several of the business firms in the Richmond area. The group hopes to encourage through its further efforts an interest in Science among the students of Douglas Freeman.

The band sparks up a pep rally with Blues in the Band.

The Douglas Freeman Band, under the direction of Mr. Hunter Purdie, is composed of sixty-eight musicians, six majorettes and a drum major.

During the year it played at many school functions including Stunt Night, Talent Night, pep rallies, in addition to taking part in the State Music Festival.

In order to raise money for permanent band uniforms, the band gave a concert, sponsored a winter dance called the Snow Ball, and held a bake sale.

The majorettes, Douglas Freeman's first, found it necessary to choose uniforms and to work out routines suitable for football games.

Officers of the band were as follows: Johnny OBrion, Captain; and Beth Engstler, Meri Boyd, Robert Haid and William Conkling, Librarians. Billy Tinder is drum major.

Feudal Favorites

The Knights, under the guidance of Mr. Hunter Purdie, have played for dances and appeared before audiences in Stunt Night and other occasions during the year.

Organized in the early fall of 1955, the sextet has as its main purpose to provide for its members some musical experience and background in the fields of jazz and popular music.

Sing Along

The Downbeats, directed by Miss Dorothea Moore, are a group of nine girls who sing for various occasions at school, churches and special benefits. They sing a variety of music ranging from hymns to rhythm and blues.

During the past two years they have appeared on television, radio, sung for dances and for many other occasions.

The girls practice twice a week, holding an occasional business meeting to plan future events.

Officers include the following: Anne Morris, president; Martha Howard, vice-president; Susan Ottley, secretary-treasurer; Dale Boatwright, historian; and Jackie Gibson, reporter. The accompanist is Betsy Ottley.

THE Rebel Booster Club has given the cheerleaders something to really yell about! Through numerous schemes and projects they were able to outfit the athletic field with lights, bleachers, and a concession stand, and in addition obtained a score-board for the gymnasium. As long as the teams have this kind of support behind them, their spirit need never falter.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 38 — BLUE RIDGE 0

The Rebels lost no time in proving that they were not going to repeat last year's season by defeating Blue Ridge Prep School 38-0. Outstanding offensive and defensive playing achieved the victory.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 32 — BATTLEFIELD PARK 0

The Rebel eleven romped over Battlefield Park to win their second straight game of the season September 30. Ray Taylor sparked the offensive attack by scoring three times against the opponents.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 35 — BEAUMONT 0

Douglas Freeman took their third game of the season from Beaumont Industrial School, October 8. The Rebels scored in every quarter behind a powerful offense and defense.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 26 — HENRY CLAY 0

Avenging last year's defeat, the Rebels defeated a speedy Henry Clay Eleven 26-0. A sparking defense repeated their first three games by holding the Eagles scoreless. Touchdowns by Nicky DesChamps, Bill Kemp and Jimmy Spillan cinched the victory.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 18 — ALBEMARLE 14

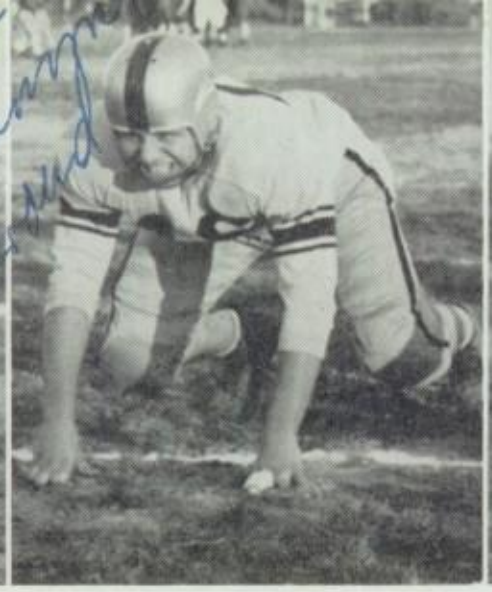
On October 22 the Rebels met one of their toughest opponents of the year, Albemarle High School. The Rebels did all of the scoring in the first half, but Albemarle came from behind and went ahead in the third and fourth quarters of play. A stubborn Douglas Freeman Eleven would not give up and, with five minutes left to play, finally added the winning touchdown. Rebel defensive play was decisive in this game.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 13 — LOUISA 7

Marching behind an explosive offense, the Rebels defeated a fighting Louisa team October 28. Sharp defensive playing held the Louisa team to seven points, while Douglas Freeman took their sixth straight victory. Bobby Grymes displayed fine running ability in this Rebel victory.

We did it!!

The Rebels pile up a Powhatan back.



DOUGLAS FREEMAN 19 — SOUTHAMPTON 6

Douglas Freeman, determined not to be defeated, beat a tough Southampton High School team on November 4. After playing shaky ball during the first half, the Rebels, marching behind the powerful running of Tommy Griggs, exploded with a fine offensive attack in the second half to defeat Southampton.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 27 — VARINA 0

Playing the best game of the season, Douglas Freeman literally mauled Varina High School 27-0, before 1,000 Rebel spectators. Reeling under a superb offense, Varina could not stop the Rebel advances, while an impressive Rebel defense held the Blue Devils scoreless.

DOUGLAS FREEMAN 38 — POWHATAN 34

The Rebels met their last opponent of the season on November 18— a speedy and powerful Powhatan Eleven. The Indians went ahead in the last quarter of this scoring battle, but the Rebels, displaying utter determination to win, came from behind in the last four minutes of play to win not only their last game, but also the Group II, District II Championship.

Way to go, Richard!

Led by tri-captains Richard Hudson, Murray Janus, and Jack Nuckols, the Rebel basketball team finished sixth in District II competition.

The Rebel cagers, playing repeatedly against overwhelming odds, displayed the skill and good sportsmanship that makes a fine team.

Douglas Freeman played several Group I schools during the season.

Richard Hudson was the team's leading scorer with 166 points, followed by Melvin Fratkin with 143 points and Floyd Mathews with 140.

The Rebels earned themselves a berth in the District II tournament and beat Orange High School 48-42 in the first round of competition. In the semifinals Douglas Freeman lost to Midlothian, but beat them the third day in the consolation game, 63-42, to finish third in the Group II, District II tournament.

Seniors graduated were Richard Hudson, Murray Janus, Floyd Mathews, and Kenny Gross.

Junior Varsity Basketball

Up and in, Tris!

The junior varsity basketball team, speedy and powerful on the court, finished the season with a 14-5 record.

Led by Jimmy Blunt, David Wilson, Sonny Tinsley, Tris Hyde, Stevie Stevenson, and Bill Wood, the baby Rebels averaged 55 points a game.

Jimmy Blunt was the team's leading scorer with 184 points, while Tommy Griggs and Lee Krost moved up to varsity late in the season.

Under the supervision of coach Jon Massello, the junior varsity displayed fine sportsmanship throughout the season.

Jump, Tommy!

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The girls' basketball team ended the 1956 season with a 10-3 record. Winning all their Group II contests, they won four of six Group I games.

The team profited by the fact that practically the entire squad returned with a year of experience behind them. A contributing factor in their successful season was well-balanced scoring, with all three forwards breaking into double figures in most of the games. The forwards, lacking in height, utilized a fast break most of the time.

Watch out for that pass!

Jump, Lyn!

Aided by Lyn Larson's driving lay-ups, Marsha Sullivan's dead-eye push shots, and excellent rebounding by Mary Lou Ayers, the offense piled up points against the opposing teams.

A fine defensive unit, composed of Bettie Anne Mayo, Marguerite Wyatt and Doralee Forsythe, developed during the season a zone defense which was at times almost impenetrable.

The game with Varina was the highlight of the season, with both teams determined to win. The Rebelettes edged the Varina girls by one point in an exciting climax.

Douglas Freeman introduced interscholastic wrestling to the Richmond area with a wrestling team formed in the 1956 season.

Under the supervision of Coach George Rebich, a group of inexperienced boys rapidly developed into a fine wrestling team. Wins over John Marshall and St. Christopher's displayed the boys' improvement during the season.

Led by Bill Kemp and Bobby Grymes, the Rebel matmen entered the state tournament at Norfolk, and although not victorious, they gained experience that will prove valuable in the future.

Oh Happy Day!

The year was a memorable one for the Douglas Freeman Cheerleaders, for on October 29, they took first place in Thalhimers' cheering rally for their performance of "Freeman Rag Mop" and "We've got the Team." Several weeks of practice and hard work went into the cheerleaders' exhibition in the contest.

Besides their regular duties of cheering at football and basketball games, the girls presented a fall fashion show to raise money for athletic letters. They also decorated a car to ride in the Tobacco Festival Parade and attended the sports banquets.

This year, for the first time, a junior varsity cheering squad was organized. It was made up of ten girls from the lower classes who cheered at all the Jay-vee games.

A Cheer for the Basketball Team!

MEMO TO:

the girl who likes to meet new friends

That's one of the nicest things about a job with the telephone company. You'll meet so many other young people you'll like and with whom you can enjoy your leisure time.

Then, too, you'll receive good pay while being trained . . . get regular raises . . . work in comfortable, modern offices—and you don't need any experience.

If you want all these advantages, find out now about a telephone job after graduation.
